Dinner Under the Stars

A COMPETITIVE DINING EVENT

This adults only, fun and festive dinner invites community members to host a table in Frank McDonough Park where they will share dinner with friends and neighbors. Participants will be provided a round table that seats up to 10 people and chairs. Each table is encouraged to go big on decorations, wear costumes and serve whatever food they'd like. There will be prizes presented for the best-decorated tables. Throughout dinner, 807 Band will rock the park. 807 Band plays rock and roll from the 1960s to the 2000s, including covers of rock greats The Who, Tom Petty, Collective Soul, Stone Temple Pilots, Joe Walsh, Pearl Jam, Carlos Santana and more. Guests and participants are required to be of legal drinking age.

WHEN: Saturday Oct. 20. Table decorating, place setting and social hour will take place between 5 and 6:30pm; prizes will be presented between 6:30 and 7pm; dinner, music and dancing takes place between 7 and 9pm.

WHERE: Frank McDonough Park, 3500 NE 27 Ave.

COST: Tables are $150 each and can be reserved at lhp.recdesk.com/community. Or, participants can drop off a check at the Recreation Department at 2200 NE 38 St., Lighthouse Point. Tables are limited and will be available until Oct. 12.

A Purple Heart City

In August, Lighthouse Point Mayor Glenn Troast signed a proclamation declaring Lighthouse Point as a Purple Heart City in recognition of the city's efforts to support its military veteran population. The Purple Heart is the oldest military decoration in present use and was the first American Service award made available to the common soldier. It is awarded to members of the armed forces who have been wounded or paid the ultimate sacrifice in combat with a declared enemy of the United States.

7th Annual Pompano Beach Brazilian Festival

The Brazilian spirit of Carnival is once again coming to Pompano Beach Community Park Saturday Oct. 20 and Sunday Oct. 21 for the 7th annual Pompano Beach Brazilian festival — the largest Brazilian festival on the southeastern coast of the U.S. The 2018 festival is projected to attract 20,000 people.

Attendees will enjoy 45 multi-cultural food vendors, a kids zone, extreme sports park, parading Samba and Capoeira performances and four world-renowned musical acts on two concert stages.

On Saturday, performances include Elba Ramalho (at 4pm), a Brazilian Forro singer who has won two Latin Grammy awards and been nominated for six; and Chimarruts (at 6pm), an eight-person, peace-promoting reggae band and winner of the Brazilian MTV Award's Best Reggae Band. Performing with Chimarruts for two new singles off their latest album will be special guest James McWhinney, formerly of Big Mountain — the band best known for their 1994 cover of Peter Frampton's "Baby, I Love Your Way," which reached the U.S. Top 40.

On Sunday, performances include Don & Juan (at 3pm), a Brazilian country duo from southern Minas Gerais known for their hit TV show about the history of Brazilian country music; and Marcelo D2 (at 6pm), an eclectic hip-hop artist who weaves in samba, bossa nova and jazz influences into his revelatory raps. Marcelo D2 has won eight Brazilian MTV awards and was praised by New York Times reporter Larry Rohter in 2011 for having a persistent "curiosity to see what happens when different genres are combined in unexpected ways."

Festival co-founder and organizer Luciano Sameli said, "never before has the festival had such a noteworthy lineup of musicians representing all regions of Brazil."

Of the 45 food vendors in attendance, an abundance of multi-cultural cuisines will be served including sushi, Greek, Indian, Mexican, BBQ, açai bowls and multiple styles of Brazilian food including traditional churrasco, acaraje and pão de queijo.

Outré Theater Company Presents “The Christians”

Outré Theater Company is known for producing provocative theater that forces viewers to challenge normative ideas. In Outré’s last season at the Pompano Cultural Center, the theater company performed an intriguing — and often controversial— series of shows, including Orwell’s “1984,” a Green Day rock opera called “American Idiot,” a feminist take on Reservoir Dogs called “Reservoir Dolls” and a musical about a transgender rockstar, “Hedwig and the Angry Inch.”

In Outré’s upcoming production of “The Christians” Outré will explore faith, belief and the seemingly insurmountable distance that separates us.

“This play, while set in a Protestant Christian church, creates a dialogue that transcends religion, and is incredibly poignant at this time in our nation,” said Skye Whitcomb, Outré’s Artistic Director and the director of the production. “The thing that strikes me most about ‘The Christians’ is that for all the struggle the characters go through, there is no ‘bad guy.’ Every one of these characters is coming from a place of personal truth, of belief, and they struggle with reconciling the differences in their beliefs. There’s this heartbreaking distance between them that tugs at the soul. And one of the most wrenching questions that the play forces us to contemplate is what we should do when those we love believe something that is not only different from what we believe, but believe something that we feel is actually dangerous.”

WHEN: Oct. 19 - Nov. 11; Fridays and Saturdays at 8pm; Sundays at 2pm

WHERE: Pompano Beach Cultural Center, 50 W. Atlantic Blvd.

“The Phantom of the Opera” at the Au-Rene Theater

Cameron Mackintosh’s spectacular new production of Andrew Lloyd Webber’s “The Phantom of the Opera” will make a triumphant return to Fort Lauderdale as part of its North American Tour. The production, which retains the beloved story and thrilling score, boasts exciting new and better special effects, scenic and lighting designs, staging and choreography.

Guests have the option of elevating their experience by choosing the Jet Blue flight deck on the club level for an upscale, all-inclusive theater outing; or add the Intermezzo Lounge to enjoy drinks, appetizers and desserts for one price.

WHEN: The production will run between Oct. 10 and Oct. 21 with both evening and matinee performances available. See full schedule at browardcenter.org

WHERE: Au-Rene Theater at the Broward Center for Performing Arts, 201 SW Fifth Ave., Fort Lauderdale

COST: Tickets range between $35 and $100 and can be purchased on Ticketmaster

“Freaky Friday” at the Amaturro Theater

This new musical has been hailed by the Washington Post as “a polished, peppy, modern fairy tale.” The classic story of a mother and daughter who magically swap bodies for 24 chaotic hours has been given a contemporary spin and “a driving pop and rock score” by Tony Award and Pulitzer Prize-winners Tom Kitt and Brian Yorkey.

WHEN: Production runs from Oct. 18 to Nov. 4 with both evening and matinee performances available. See full schedule at browardcenter.org

WHERE: Amaturro Theater at the Broward Center for Performing Arts, 201 SW 5th Ave., Fort Lauderdale

COST: Tickets range between $47 and $60 and can be purchased on Ticketmaster

Make Magic, Share Joy Tour with Justin Flom

Bob Dylan at the Au-Rene Theater

American folk and rock legend Bob Dylan is one of the most influential American musicians ever produced. Dylan, who was originally known for folk, blues and poetic lyrics was both worshiped and denounced for his shifts of interest, most notably from acoustic to electric rock 'n' roll. His place in American history is undoubtable. He will be performing with his band in Fort Lauderdale.

WHEN: Wednesday Oct. 24; show begins at 8pm,

WHERE: Au-Rene Theater at the Broward Center for Performing Arts, 201 SW Fifth Ave., Fort Lauderdale

Marilyn Manson at the Seminole Hard Rock Hotel & Casino

The controversial, anarchist, dark-boy of industrial metal music Marilyn Manson is known as much for his grotesque and shocking antics on stage (including urinating on the crowd and plunging a broken beer bottle into his chest) as he is for his music, which was made famous in the 90s and was even blamed for the Columbine shooting. The ordained Satanist once told Rolling Stone his "Point on Earth is chaos." He will, fittingly, perform on the eve of Halloween.
